

Visitor Information

Ellegaard Göttingen Minipigs A/S is a global developer, breeder, and distributor of Göttingen Minipigs for biomedical research focusing on the advancement of quality of life and health. By breeding microbiologically defined Göttingen Minipigs in barrier facilities, we fulfil the industry's wish for an animal model with a high standard of health and high quality in general.

The unique health status of our Göttingen Minipigs is only achieved and maintained through our very strict biosecurity and quarantine regulations which must be adhered to at all times by all employees as well as visitors.

Prior to entering the premises of Ellegaard Göttingen Minipigs, guests are asked to sign a declaration confirming the admission requirements.

Admission to administration buildings and/or viewing lofts above barriers

Visitors are only allowed to enter the administration buildings and/or the viewing lofts above the barriers 48 hours, at the earliest, after contact to pigs including contact to their feces or urine. Furthermore, admission is only allowed if the visitor after the contact has showered and has changed clothes and shoes before entering the premises of Ellegaard Göttingen Minipigs.

Admission to barriers

Visitors are only allowed to enter the barriers upon permission from the host at Ellegaard Göttingen Minipigs. The quarantine regulations described above must be followed.

Before entering the barriers, visitors must shower in the barrier and use PPE (Personal Protection Equipment) according to our Standard Operational Procedures.
